neighborhood_overview=>In the neighborhood of the river, you can find several restaurants as varied flavors, but without forgetting the so traditional northern food. You can also find several bars and pubs to unwind after a day's visit to the magnificent Port. To enjoy the Douro River can board the boats that daily make the ride of six bridges. You can also embark towards Régua, Barca d'Alva, Pinhão, etc and enjoy the Douro Wine Region, World Heritage of Humanity. The Infante's house is a few meters and no doubt it deserves a visit. They abound grocery stores, bakeries, etc. to make your meals. Souvenir shop, wine cellars, etc. to bring some souvenirs.
notes=>Lose yourself in the narrow streets and staircases zone, have lunch in pubs and typical restaurants, and find the renovated cafes and shops in town. If you like exercise, rent a bicycle in the area and ride along the river to the sea, where it will enter beautiful beaches and terraces for everyone. The area is safe, find the bus stops 1min and metro line 5min. The bustling nightlife is a 10 min walk, where the streets are filled with people and entertainment for all. But Porto is much more than the historical center, here is modern museums, concert halls, clean and cared for beaches and surf all year round. Walk through the Ponte D. Luis and visit the different Caves of Port wine, where you will enjoy the famous port wine. Porto is a spoken city everywhere in the world as the best to be visited and savored by all ... natural beauty, culture, tradition, river, sea, beach, single people, typical food, and we are among those who best receive tourists, confirm! We are always available to help guests\nneighborhood_overview=>In the neighborhood of the river, you can find several restaurants as varied flavors, but without forgetting the so traditional northern food. You can also find several bars and pubs to unwind after a day\'s visit to the magnificent Port. To enjoy the Douro River can board the boats that daily make the ride of six bridges. You can also embark towards Régua, Barca d\'Alva, Pinhão, etc and enjoy the Douro Wine Region, World Heritage of Humanity. The Infante\'s house is a few meters and no doubt it deserves a visit. They abound grocery stores, bakeries, etc. to make your meals. Souvenir shop, wine cellars, etc. to bring some souvenirs.\nnotes=>Lose yourself in the narrow streets and staircases zone, have lunch in pubs and typical restaurants, and find the renovated cafes and shops in town. If you like exercise, rent a bicycle in the area and ride along the river to the sea, where it will enter beautiful beaches and terraces for everyone. The area is safe, find the bus stops 1min and metro line 5min. The bustling nightlife is a 10 min walk, where the streets are filled with people and entertainment for all. But Porto is much more than the historical center, here is modern museums, concert halls, clean and cared for beaches and surf all year round. Walk through the Ponte D. Luis and visit the different Caves of Port wine, where you will enjoy the famous port wine. gangster\'s paradise either!  Our neighborhood is very residential and typically quieter than most urban cities. The summertime is louder on the block because very few people have air conditioning and enjoy hanging outside. The neighbors are friendly, so say hello as you pass! The ages of the neighborhood are very diverse (young children to elderly homeowners who have been here for 40 years). Flatbush has a lot of local charm and people with hearts of gold.  Jamaican food is plentiful (jerk chicken- yeah!); there is also a local donut shop nearby, Subway, Thai, sushi, pizza, and Indian food for delivery or a 5-15 minute walk to the restaurant, as well as many chain stores like Dominos, Dunkin\' Donuts, IHOP, and Walgreens drug store. There is also a Planet Fitness (handy for Black-Card members!) Just a 10 minute walk down the road is\nnotes=>NOTE: Though our CHECK-IN and CHECK-OUT times are VERY FLEXIBLE, it is important to understand that many times, we have guests back to back.  CHECK IN: This means, if you are coming in on a red-eye flight and are arriving early in the morning, the previous guest may still be occupying the room until after we have both left for work meetings. As we work and are not a full-time business (just a couple renting out a room to meet awesome travelers), we may not be able to change the sheets and thoroughly clean the room until later in the evening, sometimes as late as 7pm. You are welcome to drop your bags at any time on Check in Day! This is usually no issue 90% of the time. CHECK OUT: Additionally, because of time constraints, we may ask  that you be packed up and OUT of the apartment on the morning of your checkout. As already mentioned I really believe in the Values of Airbnb and the sharing economy. For this reason it is very important to me that people don\'t take my place simply as a cheap replacement for a hotel. People who stay with me are usually having a great time, not only cause the room is nicely decorated or the place is so central but because they find a personal note that they wouldn\'t find in a hotel. However this only works if people are open minded and don\'t take things for granted. For this Reason I will simply refuse any requests which carry no personal message or people who think they are dealing with representative of Hotels. ;) I can\'t wait to meet you and to share some stories and laughs! My Kitchen replaces the Living Room, meaning it is here where all the social life takes place. In the Kitchen you will find a Nespresso machine and a milk frother for your Coffees in the morning! You\'ll have your own shelf in the fridge and the kitchen as well is free to your use. (just don\'t forget to wash up ;) ) Be assured that in the apartment you will find all basic appliances like wifi, washer. Booking for 30 nights minimum\ninteraction=>I live in the apartment with my girlfriend and our beautiful cat. I have a pretty busy life, professionally and private, so usually you should have the place to yourself on most times of the day. However it is important to me to make myself available for my guests and I will always be very happy to advise you on how to hit the city according to your preferences ( also check out my guidebook on the bottom of the page). You also wouldn\'t be the first of my guests to be sharing laughs and good stories about travels, music and whatnot over a refreshing drink. ;)\nhouse_rules=>-There aren\'t many rules you have to follow in our place, follow your common sense, act not much different as if you would stay with a friend... -Be clean, be respectful! -Wash your dishes please! -I am happy to let you use the amenities in the house, please just ask for permission beforehand. -We are not a Hotel but people who seek good company from all over the world! We are near the Jamaica Bay Riding Academy, Gateway National Park and Canarsie Pier.  If you like bike riding you could take the Gateway National Park bike path to Brighton Beach--the ride along the water is beautiful and peaceful. As far as cafes-- there are a few spots in Canarsie but I prefer to take the L train to Williamsburg or Downtown Brooklyn to go to some of Brooklyn\'s most revere hip spots.  The total ride to the hippest areas in Brooklyn is about 15 to 30 min depending on the area and on the (Website hidden by Airbnb) Manhattan the first stop is 40 min). By-the-way, I\'ve seen other posting with spaces  in Canarsie that are located further away from our block, and they are claiming 20 to 30 min to Manhattan--- this is a lie.  Our space is 3 blocks away from the L train and door to door to 1st Avenue/14 Street (first stop in Manhattan on the L train) it is 40 min.
